Q: What is a Birds-of-a-Feather Session (BOF)?

A: Birds-of-a-Feather (BOF) sessions are smaller and more informal than technical and business sessions. They are typically led by one or two speakers and are normally held in the evenings. Some BOFs may open with a short presentation followed by a question-and-answer section, while others take the form of open, "round-table" discussions about particular topics of interest to the Java technology developer community.

Q: Will the Java UniversitySM program be offered this year? Can I attend Java University without registering for the JavaOne conference?

A: Yes, the Java University program is offered this year. You can purchase a pass to the Java University program without purchasing a pass to the JavaOne conference.

The Java University program takes place on Monday, May 15 . The cost for the program is $795. The Java University program is a one day program. Sorry, no discounts are available for this program.
